

Development Worker (m/f/d) „Support to Health Sector Support Programme“ - Kathmandu/Nepal

Field of activity

The Health Sector Support Programme in Nepal aims to improve equitable access to health services for the population in the supported municipalities. The module adopts a multilevel approach that is closely aligned with the implementation plan of Nepal Health Sector Strategy 2015–2022 and strengthens partner capacities with a view to achieving the health-relevant sustainable development goals. The involvement of civil society, gender equality and human rights are cross-cutting themes in all five thematic areas. The overall responsibility of the Development Advisor is to contribute to the quality implementation of the Bachelor of Midwifery Education at the National Academy School of Medical Sciences (NAMS) according to the set standards and endorsed curriculum by the Nepal Nursing Council following the International Confederation of Midwives (ICM) criteria.

Your tasks

- Assisting in implementation of midwifery training and capacity building by acting as an advisor and mentor to the faculty members of the bachelor in midwifery education and supporting the academic teaching according to ICM standards within competencies-based curriculum on midwifery subject
- Contributing to ensure the practice orientation/clinical guidance and supervision of the educational programme, e.g. mentoring faculty members in acquiring the necessary skills and modern teaching competency, conducting laboratory practice sessions and clinical instruction and their assessment
- Advising in modern adult teaching methodology, e.g. assure participatory approach, role plays and exchange between students and promote practical exercises wherever possible, support in the use of narrative pedagogy

Your profile

- Master's degree in Midwifery or related fields
- Several years of clinical midwifery experience/education and teaching experience
- Skills in research methodology and analysis
- Ability to inspire, coach, capacitate individuals, including persons from different background and culture
- Independent working style with a high degree of flexibility and negotiation skills
- Fluency in English in writing and speaking

For further information visit www.giz.de/jobs, Job-ID P1533V5950.

Application deadline: 04/30/2021.